Area council, supervisors reorganize

The beginning of the new year usually means new community officials being sworn in and new officers being elected.

Last week was no exception to that rule as local communities seated newly elected officials and those officials then elected their officers.

Carbondale

Michael Tolerico was elected president of the city council and James V. McMyne was elected vice president.

Sworn in were Tolerico, McMyne, Charlotte Moro, and Albert Calzola. All were reelected in November.

SWEARING-IN CEREMONIES for city officials was held last Tuesday evening in council chambers. Doing the honors was Judge Edwin Kosik, left. Councilmembers sworn in, from left, are Charlotte Moro, Albert Calzola, James V. McMyne, and Michael Tolerico. See story above. (MIRROR photo by Ros-Al)